The Rt. Rev. Creighton Robertson
The Diocese of South Dakota
500 So. Main
Sioux Falls, SD 57102

Dear Bishop Creighton:

I'm reminded of why it was so nice to move every three or four years as I look at my present schedule. I've been here in Sioux Falls for almost eight years now and I'm so overbooked I am only giving a "lick and a promise" to many of the things I'm doing. Given my present commitments, 1995 needs to be more business than church. I'm sorry to leave you with this problem, but after the January 1, 1995, service at Grace Church, Madison, I would like to be relieved of all responsibility for that congregation. They're good people and deserve more attention than I've been able to give them recently. I will miss them.

Secondly, at a mutually agreeable date in the first part of 1995, I'd like to be relieved of any responsibility for the liturgy and pastoral oversight of the Cathedral. This does not mean that I would not be available for occasional services and things such as funerals and weddings (same at Madison for that matter), but I want to focus on Flandreau and my business for the next year and a half.

Yours Truly,

The Rev. Allen L. Lewis
